PUBLIC PRINTER RALPH E. KENNICKELL, JR. ANNOUNCES GPO RESIGNATION; DECISION TO HEAD GATF

Ralph E. Kennickell, Jr. has announced his decision to leave the U.S. Government Printing Office (GPO) where he has served as Public Printer since December 1984. Kennickell, who heads one of the largest job printing shops in the world, will retain his ties to the industry as he assumes his new position as Executive Director of the Graphic Arts Technical Foundation (GATF).

In making the announcement before his staff of senior GPO officials, the 42-year-old Public Printer said, "It's been an honor to serve this agency and this administration. I've grown close to our people and been fortunate to have had so much expertise around me. But, I've learned over the years that too many individuals come to Washington to solve the problems and stay so long that they become problems themselves. My new post will allow me to fulfill some of my personal objectives and to continue to serve the industry which I love."

Kennickell will remain in his Federal position until November 18, 1988. While serving as Public Printer, he led the 127-year-old GPO in attaining its goal as a "demand-driven, service-oriented" agency. "In the past few years, every part of GPO has changed; nothing has gone unmoved. I do believe that I leave this agency in better condition than I found it. And. I hope that its people are better off as well," Kennickell said in summarizing the achievements of his administration.

Kennickell is no stranger to the 3,000-member Graphic Arts Technical Foundation. Since 1986, he has been a member of the Pittsburgh-based organization's Board of Directors. GATF is a nonprofit, scientific, technical, and educational organization which has served the international graphic communications industry since 1924.

AMENDMENT OF SELECTIONS

A number of depository librarians are still sending in long overdue survey scanning sheets and the green "Amendment of Selection" postcards with additions to their item selection profile. As previously announced in the instructions for the Annual Selection Update Cycle (May 1988), for additions to a library's profile to be effective on October 1, 1988, they must have been received by LPS in July 1988. The green postcards with "adds" arriving now will be retained by LPS until implementation of the next item selection update cycle scheduled for October 1, 1989.

A reminder: Documents librarians may send in the green "Amendment of Selection" postcards for deletions at any time. The deletions will become effective approximately four weeks from their receipt by LPS.

Notes From the Public Printer

When I arrived at GPO nearly 4 years ago, the edge I had coming into this agency was in knowing that one day I would be leaving again. I knew that I couldn't take myself too seriously and I knew that I could not let myself believe that I would be Public Printer for life. But, even with this knowledge, my decision to leave at this time has not been an easy one. I am completely sincere when I tell you that these have been the best years of my life. I have made friends, I've grown close to people, and I've had a great deal of fun. Even more important, in these 4 years, we have seen our goal to become a "demand-driven, service-oriented" agency arrive at nothing short of reality.

For this accomplishment, I realize that I cannot assume full credit. I do believe, however, that the tone which I have tried to set for our entire workforce has helped to bring about our many achievements. Through your efforts, we have overcome many obstacles once believed insurmountable.

Today, we find very little within GPO which remains unchanged from 4 years ago. We have cut our appropriations requests, we have successfully negotiated three 3-year wage agreements, and I am particularly proud of our high-caliber management team. I see each of you motivated to do an outstanding job, and as a result, our customers have come to rely on the quality of our service. Our internal printing and binding efforts have been modernized and our productivity has increased. This year alone, it appears our commercial procurements will exceed $600 million, an all-time high.

The achievements we have attained, however, go beyond those of our Production and Procurement areas. Administrative and support personnel throughout GPO are continually fulfilling their vital role on behalf of all of our efforts.

And, in our desire to disseminate information, we are now selling U.S. Government books around the world, even in China and the Soviet Union. Automation has improved delivery of all of our publications and the depository library program is in excellent shape. The nationwide bookstore program is undergoing a complete overhaul, with relocations and new openings already underway. None of these accomplishments could have been attained without your dedication and hard work.

To all of you I owe a great deal of gratitude. It has been not only my pleasure but a source of great pride to have been able to serve as your Public Printer. As many of you are aware, my first positions as a public servant were not at GPO; but rest assured, when I accepted the challenge of coming to Washington, it was always GPO to which I was coming. This opportunity has fulfilled a longtime dream. Although, as I have said, it is not easy to leave, I know that the time has come. Too many people come to Washington to solve problems and stay so long that they become problems themselves. My leaving is made easier in knowing that I will still be involved in the industry which I love and with the people I admire and respect. GATF has more than 3,000 members around the world, so I expect to be busy and I hope to bring a great deal of energy to one of the vital organizations representing our industry.

I hope that I will continue to be regarded as a resource for GPO. I will certainly continue to be a spokesperson for its services and particularly for you, its workforce. If our Deputy Joe Jenifer should be selected as your next Public Printer, I believe the agency could not have a better leader. He has fully earned the respect and dedication which you have always shown to me. Again, I say thanks to each and every one of you. You have my best wishes and the knowledge that the years ahead are going to bring many new and exciting opportunities for each of you individually and for GPO as a whole.

2ND ANNUAL
INTERAGENCY DEPOSITORY SEMINAR
"SERVING YOUR COMMUNITY'S GOVERNMENT INFORMATION NEEDS"

An Interagency Seminar will be held in Washington, DC from April 24th through 28th, 1989. This Seminar is being sponsored by: the Bureau of the Census; the Copyright Office; the Office of the Federal Register; the Library of Congress; the National Technical Information Service; the Patent and Trademark Office; and, the Government Printing Office. The overarching theme of the Seminar is: "Serving Your Community's Government Information Needs." The seminar will consist of an overview of the various agencies' products and activities as they relate to Federal Depository Libraries.

The Interagency Depository Seminar is one of the most comprehensive introductions to Government information now offered in Washington, D.C. The Seminar is aimed at Documents Librarians with at least some experience in a depository environment. Last year's attendees felt the Seminar was extremely valuable and significantly increased their understanding of Federal information resources. A ten dollar registration fee will be the only charge. Librarians attending the Seminar must cover their own travel and subsistence expense, as no funds are available for this purpose.

Attendance must be limited to 75 documents librarians. Although all documents librarians would benefit from attending the Seminar, preference will be given to those librarians located farthest from Washington, D.C. and/or who have never attended a GPO-sponsored workshop. Prospective attendees should complete the following registration form and questionnaire, then mail them to GPO by January 31, 1988. Librarians who are officially registered for the Seminar will be notified by mail. The ten dollar registration fee will be accepted at this time. If you have any questions about the Seminar, please write or call the Chief, Inspection Team (202) 275-1119.

INTERAGENCY DEPOSITORY SEMINAR

-SCHEDULE OF EVENTS-

Sunday, April 23rd

There will be a very informal get-together of Seminar participants in the main hall of Union Station at 6:00 p.m. Librarians will get a chance to meet with some of the people who will be making presentations at the Seminar in a very informal setting.

Monday, April 24th Library Programs Service Seminar

The Library Programs Service (LPS) of the Government Printing Office will host the first day's activities. LPS staffers will describe the process by which GPO acquires, classifies, catalogs, and distributes depository copies. Staffers will also discuss the responsibilities of Federal Depository Libraries (such as: collection development, bibliographic control, free access and depository promotion). There will also be a comprehensive tour of LPS facilities and a question and answer period.

Tuesday, April 25th Census Bureau Seminar

Most of the Census Bureau's day will be devoted to a status and product review of the 1987 Economic Census and the 1990 Census of Population and Housing. The review will include information on the media in which these products will be issued and the release schedules for these products. The Census Bureau will also provide a description of user services activities related to the catalog, monthly product announcement, and monthly newsletter; publications and tape sales; CENDATA, and online service, and the State Data Center and Business and Industry Data Center Programs. Bureau staff will provide a variety of handouts and answer your questions about the availability and uses of census data.

Wednesday, April 26th Intellectual Property Workshop

A full day workshop covering the basics of intellectual property: patents, trademark and copyrights, featuring speakers from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office and the Copyright Office of the Library of Congress. Attendees will learn to differentiate between the three types of federal protection for intellectual property and the methods by which this information is accessed by the public. Special emphasis will be given to the Patent Depository Library Program, a nationwide network of 62 libraries which receive copies of U.S. patents and play a significant role in the dissemination of patent information to the public. Publications and search methods, where applicable, will be discussed.

Thursday, April 27th Library of Congress Presentations

Thursday's activities will be held at the Library of Congress. There will be presentations on the Library Services Division of the Congressional Research Service (CRS); the loan policies of the Library of Congress; services of the Photoduplication Division of the Library of Congress; and collections of Federal documents in the Library of Congress. Tours of CRS and other areas in LC will also be offered.

Friday, April 28th

On Friday both the Office of the Federal Register and the National Technical Information Service(NTIS) will each conduct two half day events. The attendees will be divided into two groups and each group will attend both the Federal Register and the NTIS presentations.

NTIS Workshop

The half-day National Technical Information Service workshop will focus on the NTIS mission and its products and services. This will include information on special user services, updates on selected products and services, and other special emphasis programs and products. Handouts will be provided and NTIS staff members will be available to answer questions.

Federal Register Workshop

This is a two and one hour workshop on the Federal regulatory system as presented by the Office of Federal Register, National Archives and Records Administration. The workshop covers: the regulatory process, including the relationship between laws and regulations; the important elements of the Federal Register and the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR); a research problem using the finding aids of the Federal Register/CFR publication system; and, an introduction to public participation in the rule making process.

All presentations during the Seminar week will be held in Hasse Hall in the main building of the Government Printing Office, the sole exception being the Thursday presentations, which will be conducted at the Library of Congress. Presentations will begin promptly at 8:30 a.m. and will last until at least mid-afternoon. All participants will be expected to attend all events.

2ND ANNUAL INTERAGENCY DEPOSITORY SEMINAR

-ACCOMMODATIONS-

Accommodations in the Washington, DC area during the month of April can be hard to obtain. April is a peak tourist month in the Capital. A block of rooms has been reserved for seminar attendees at the Carlyle Suites Hotel. The hotel is located at 1731 New Hampshire Avenue, N.W., Washington, DC. The Carlyle Suites Hotel is in a good area of the city and it is close to the same metro line that serves the Government Printing Office. A complete suite (bedroom, kitchen, dining, etc.) is available for $75.00 per night for one person and $10.00 per night for each additional person. If you wish to reserve a room at the Carlyle Suites Hotel you should call as soon as your Seminar reservations are confirmed by GPO. The phone number of the Carlyle Suites Hotel is (202) 234-3200. Please tell the reservations clerk that you are attending the GPO Seminar and quote the above rate. If you are interested in sharing a room with another librarian attending the Seminar, you could call John Tate at GPO (202) 275-1109. Mr. Tate will try to match-up roommates.

2ND ANNUAL
INTERAGENCY DEPOSITORY SEMINAR

-QUESTIONNAIRE-

The sponsoring agencies of the Interagency Seminar want to identify areas of interest to potential participants of the Seminar. In this way, the agency's presenters can better anticipate the concerns of their audience. If you are planning on attending the Seminar, please take a moment to complete the following questionnaire and enclose it with your registration form.

PLEASE CHECK THE MOST APPROPRIATE RESPONSE.

EEOC CASE DECISIONS

At the October 1988 Depository Library Council meeting, a number of questions were raised by librarians about the EEOC Case Decisions distributed to depository libraries under item number 1059-A-02.

In its recommendation #4 of October 1986, the Depository Library Council identified Information Handling Services (IHS) as the best alternative to providing the EEOC Case Decisions to depositories in a timely manner. No SuDocs numbers appear on the IHS microfiche. However, the classes assigned by GPO have appeared in Administrative Notes, v. 9, no. 5, March 1988, p. 3.

Information Handling Services is providing the product to depository libraries under contract with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. Our selecting depositories receive the identical microfiche product in the same packaging as IHS subscribers who pay $1800/yr. IHS does not supply envelopes with its product.

For those libraries desiring to purchase envelopes for these microfiche, GPO can provide the specifications it uses but cannot name its supplier, to avoid any hint of government endorsement. Specifications for the envelopes are as follows:

Envelopes and divider sheets shall be made from white paper with a pH no less than 7.0. Envelopes shall be manufactured to permit easy insertion of microfiche and shall have sealed side seams (flaps formed as part of the back of the envelope) with inner tucks on the 4.2 dimension and one open side on the 6.1 dimension. enveloped fiche shall not extend above the top of the back side of the envelope.

The printed Subject Index is a copyrighted product and is not a government publication according to the definition in Title 44, U.S. Code. The other fiche indexes, provided as part of the IHS-EEOC contract, are public domain material. Those libraries desiring the printed Subject Index must purchase it from Information Handling Services.

Dear Depository Librarian:

Several months ago, the Library Programs Service (LPS) distributed a large quantity of braille publications from the Social Security Administration. Recently, we have been apprised that nine of them are internal documents meant for the sole use of blind employees of this agency.

For this reason, I am directing you to remove these publications from your library collection and destroy them by any appropriate method.

The braille documents appear on three shipping lists. The books have no title printed on them and are only identifiable by the publication number. GPO will modify the OCLC cataloging records to note internal distribution.

BRAILLE PUBLICATIONS

For some years, the Library Programs Service instructed the Departmental Account Representative Division to "ride" any SF-1 printing requisition for braille publications under only one item number, 0806-A-07. The materials were classed under the appropriate agency.

On October 14, 1988, the Depository Library Council to the Public Printer recommended a change in this policy (recommendation #7). As depository libraries already receive multiple language versions of the same title under the item number for the English language version, braille publications should be treated no differently.

To that end, effective immediately, the Departmental Account Representative Division has been instructed to order braille editions under the same item number as the non-braille edition of the same title.

As a reminder, depository libraries have always had the option to selectively house the braille editions at sites where the materials will receive the greatest visibility and use.

GPO CONTRACT SOLICITATION

GPO will be releasing Invitation For Bid #5106489JAH to provide sorting and filing services for U.S. Government publications, from the U.S. Government Printing Office, Laurel I Warehouse, Receiving, Laurel, MD 10707, to the Contractor's facility located in the Washington, DC - MD - VA Metropolitan Statistical Area; from this facility to the National Archives and Records Administration, Washington National Records Center, Suitland, MD 20409. This work statement involves the arrangement of paper copy documents in accordance with the Superintendent of Documents classification system as well as transportation. Bids will be opened December 12, 1988. For information call: Joel Hettger, Contracting Officer, (202) 275-2761.

MONTHLY CATALOG ERRATA

Preliminary pages 33-40 and pages 1-24 of the Monthly Catalog Entries were omitted from some copies of the October 1988 issue of the Monthly catalog of United States Government Publications. Replacement pages are being reprinted and will be provided to all catalog recipients in order to correct this problem in the time-liest and most economical manner. Please do not claim this issue because of the defect. All claims stock has been exhausted.

GPO DEPOSITORY
UNION LIST OF ITEMS SELECTIONS

Magnetic Tape

The Superintendent of Documents is pleased to announce that copies of the computer-generated tape used to produce the publication titled GPO Depository Union List of Item Selections are now available for sale.

The GPO Depository Union List of Item Selections is comprised of two parts: The first part provides bibliographic and descriptive information for over 7,000 item categories, representing United States government documents distributed through the Federal Depository Library Program administered by the U.S. Government Printing Office. Each item entry is followed by depository numbers for up to 1,400 libraries receiving that item. The second part, an appendix, provides complete addresses and telephone numbers for the broad range of public, academic, government, and other special libraries participating in the Depository Library Program.

The tape sold by this Office is a print image tape used for producing microfiche. It is a high quality nine track tape recorded at 1600 BPI. Tapes contain IBM standard labels, and 20 records to a block. Each record, which corresponds to a line of print, contains 133 characters for a block size of 2660 characters.

The price for the GPO Depository Union List of Item Selections in magnetic tape format is currently $250 Domestic and $312.50 Foreign. Like our regular sales items, remittance must be received before shipment of an order. Purchases may be paid for by check, money order, cash, or charged to your VISA, MASTERCARD, GPO, or NTIS deposit account. Please provide the expiration date when using a credit card. Please allow four to six weeks for delivery.

To expedite your order, please provide the following stock number for the Union List magnetic tape: 021-000-00115-5.

READERS EXCHANGE

Minnesota Documents librarians were not about to miss any opportunity for publicizing their depository collections, so when the organizers of the first annual Minnesota Festival of the Book sent out a call for participants in a "Book Affair", scheduled for September 10, 1988, the Minnesota Government Documents Round Table and the Metro-docs Plus group of metropolitan area document librarians responded enthusiastically. The groups sponsored a strolling Uncle Sam (Regional Librarian Bill LaBissoniere) wearing a rented costume plus a sandwich board featuring the depository logo and the legend DOCUMENTS ARE U.S. in large letters. Three local librarians (Julie Wallace and Leone Johnson of the Minneapolis Public Library and Roz Jacob of the St. Paul Public Library) dressed in their most patriotic ensembles and accompanied Uncle Sam distributing red, white and blue candies, a GPO brochure and a nifty new local brochure listing Minnesota Federal and State depositories. Fair attendance was estimated at 5,000, most of whom could not help but notice the message!

Enclosed are photographs and a copy of our brochure.

A 1.7/6:456/988	0003	Nutritive Value of American Foods in Common Units , Agriculture Handbook No. 456, 1988. LPS must go back to press because copies of this publication were not ordered for depository libraries. Distribution of this publication will be made at a later date.
CC 1.12/3:	0284	FCC Record (bi-weekly). The FCC informs LPS that due to budget cuts this publication will not be cumulated into bound volumes.
GA 1.16/4:	0546-E	GAO Documents; catalog of reports, decisions and opinions, testimonies and speeches. LPS has received GAO Documents erratically in 1987 and not at all in 1988. LPS has contacted the issuing agency about the matter. GAO is reviewing whether this title should be produced as only 75 subscriptions are sold. LPS informed GAO that 682 depository libraries also receive this title. The issuing agency has not made a final determination about discontinuing the publication.
J 1.5:	0718	Official Opinions of Attorneys' General The last volume shipped by GPO was Volume 42. The issuing agency has informed LPS that this series is not discontinued and has not been replaced by any other set. The agency plans to print subsequent volumes but cannot provide a timetable. Thus, this item number will remain active.
J 1.14/8:	0717-C-05	The FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin , Volume 57, No. 1, is in the process of being reprinted and will be distributed to the depository libraries at a later date.
JU 10.21:	0729-D	Federal Judicial Workload Statistics . The last issue LPS shipped to depository libraries was December 1985. LPS has recently received one copy of each succeeding issue. Once these publications are reprinted, they will be distributed to all selecting libraries.

SEC Decisions.

Due to erroneous information from the issuing agency, this publication and item number were removed from the List of Classes. The agency has just notified LPS that Volumes 47 and 48 are going to press. There will be no new survey conducted and all libraries who were designated to receive item number 0908 will receive the new volumes.

EEOC Decisions.

The COM generated indexes are provided as part of the EEOC/Information Handling Services contract. Depository libraries receive them as part of an agreement between EEOC and GPO. The subject index, prepared by Information Handling Service, is not a government publication as defined by 44 U.S.C. It is a copyrighted product available for sale from IHS only.

IHS has indicated that one shipment of EEOC microfiche was shipped in August, one in September, and one for late October. These three shipments will complete the FY '88 EEOC/IHS contract. The FY '89 EEOC/IHS contract for depository distribution must be negotiated.
